THE CARPEY CHRONICLE

How Is A Concussion Treated?

I recently sustained a concussion in a sports related injury. I had an immediate headache, followed by some 'head cloudiness' that lasted for about 24 hours as well as nausea. Thankfully, my symptoms went away within about 48 hours. Here are some of the symptoms to look for, and some of the treatment methods. I've had several clients who have suffered long term effects of concussion who have benefited from treatment.

Signs and symptoms of a concussion may include:

- Headache or a feeling of pressure in the head.
- Temporary loss of consciousness.
- Confusion or feeling as if in a fog.
- Amnesia surrounding the traumatic event.
- Dizziness or "seeing stars"
- Ringing in the ears.
- Nausea.
- Vomiting

Some people may not experience and/or report symptoms until hours or days after the injury. In general, most people with a concussion will recover quickly and fully. But, for some people, signs and symptoms of a concussion can last for days, weeks or longer.

- Cognitive (thinking) rest is essential in the early phase of treatment. This is critical for the young athlete. They should rest in a dark room and avoid using the brain. That means no TV, no texting, no video games, no reading, etc. This decreased activity helps the brain to heal.
- See a physician who specializes in the treatment of concussions.
- The physician will direct treatment and return to activity is based on the symptoms being absent during rest and exertion.
- Physical Therapy can be beneficial in assisting in the gradual increase and progression of activities which is based on the absence of symptoms with activity.
- Physical Therapy will also help improve dizziness and balance issues following concussion. A qualified vestibular physical therapist can provide specific exercises and training to improve these symptoms.

LAURA CARPEY'S RECIPE OF THE MONTH

Salty Oatmeal Chocolate Chunk Cookies

Here is a great cookie recipe. I made it a couple of weeks ago, and I think it is going to become my personal "signature cookie". They are crunchy and chewy, sweet and salty. In my opinion, those are the REAL four major food groups!! And there's oatmeal and dried fruit in it, so we can pretend that they are healthy!

Laura Carpey

Makes 28-32 Cookies

INGREDIENTS:

- 1/2 lb. (2 sticks) unsalted butter, at room temperature
 - 3/4 C light brown sugar, lightly packed
 - 3/4 C granulated sugar
 - 2 tsp pure vanilla extract
 - 2 large eggs
 - 1 3/4 C all-purpose flour
 - 1 tsp baking soda
 - 1 tsp kosher salt
 - 1 1/4 C old-fashioned oats, such as Quaker
 - 1 bag semi-sweet chocolate chunks
 - 3/4 C dried cherries
- sea salt

INSTRUCTIONS:

Preheat the oven to 375°. Line 3 sheet pans with parchment paper.

In an electric mixer fitted with a paddle attachment, beat the butter, brown sugar, and granulated sugar on medium-high speed for 3 minutes, until light and fluffy. Scrape down the bowl with a rubber spatula. On low speed, add the vanilla, then the eggs, one at a time. Scrape down the bowl again.

Meanwhile, sift the flour, baking soda, and salt into a medium bowl. Mix in the oats. With the mixer on low, slowly add the flour mixture to the butter-sugar mixture. Don't overbeat it! With a rubber spatula, stir in the chocolate and dried cherries until the dough is well mixed. With a 1 3/4" ice cream scoop (or two spoons), scoop round balls of dough onto the prepared sheet pans.

Sprinkle lightly with sea salt. Bake for 10-12 minutes, until nicely browned. Serve warm or at room temperature.

NOTE: If you prefer cookies thin and crisp, bake them straight from the mixing bowl. If you prefer them chewy in the middle and crisp outside, chill the balls of dough. MAKE IT AHEAD: Scoop balls of dough, place in sealed containers, and refrigerate for up to a week or freeze for up to 3 months. Defrost and bake before serving. Baked cookies can be stored in plastic bags and reheated for 5 minutes at 350°.
