July 4th Weekend Historic Philadelphia Must Sees

For Carpey Law history buffs out there, check out our favorite museums and historical sites this July 4th weekend: The Constitution Center, Independence Hall, Museum of the American Revolution. Historic Philadelphia is where history actually happened!

More Things to Do

Betsy Ross House: America's most famous flag maker greets guests at her 18th-century upholstery shop, part of a tiny dwelling where visitors learn about Ross' life and legend, and enjoy programs, storytelling and activities.

Elfreth's Alley: Elfreth's Alley boasts 300 years of history on its charming cobblestone road lined with quaint row houses. While a modern city has sprung up around it, the alley preserves three centuries of evolution through its old-fashioned flower boxes, shutters, Flemish bond brickwork and other architectural details. Don't miss Bladens Court, a "secret" alley off of Elfreth's Alley.

The African American Museum in Philadelphia: This museum has as a permanent core exhibition, Audacious Freedom, a groundbreaking historic and cultural display spanning two floors and presenting the stories of African Americans such as Richard Allen, Octavius Catto and Harriet Tubman through a series of informative and interactive presentations. The upper galleries host a rotating calendar of special exhibitions.

Franklin Square: Enjoy the outdoors at this fun-filled park named in honor of Benjamin Franklin. Take a mini-tour of Philadelphia as you putt-putt your way through the city's iconic sites during a round of Philly Mini Golf, or enjoy a nostalgic ride on the Parx Liberty Carousel, a classic tribute to Philadelphia's great heritage of carousel-making. There's also a fountain (renovated in 2019 to feature seasonal water shows and nighttime light shows!), a SquareBurger food stand and lots of open space to lounge or run around.

The President's House: Before the White House, there was The President's House, home to both George Washington and John Adams, when Philadelphia was the capital of the United States from 1790 to 1800. The open-air President's House exhibit commemorates the nation's first executive mansion and reveals a long-obscured glimpse into the lives of the enslaved Africans who toiled at the house during Washington's presidency.

Museum of the American Revolution: Just steps from Independence Hall, the Museum of the American Revolution traces the evolution of the American colonies from the earliest days of unrest through a legendary war and the improbable victory that led to a new nation. Immersive exhibitions and priceless artifacts include General Washington's original headquarters tent, Revolutionary War weaponry, centuries-old military documents and hundreds of other authentic objects.

National Constitution Center: It's only four pages long, but the U.S. Constitution is among the most influential and important documents in the history of the world. The 160,000-square-foot National Constitution Center dives into all aspects of this amazing document – drafted just a few blocks away – through high-tech exhibits, artifacts and interactive displays.

LAURA CARPEY'S RECIPE OF THE MONTH

Chicken Parmesan

INGREDIENTS

- 2 chicken cutlets
- Salt, to taste
- Pepper, to taste
- 1 Tbsp, AP seasoning
- 2 Eggs
- 1 c. Flour
- 2/3 c. Breadcrumbs
- 1/4 c. Parmesan, grated
- Lemon Zest
- Oil spray

For the Topping:

- 24 oz. Marinara Sauce
- 2 c. Mozzarella, shredded
- 1/2 Parmesan cheese, grated

For serving:

- Parsley, minced
- Parmesan, grated

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Preheat the oven to 400°F. Place a wire rack on a baking sheet and brush or spray it with cooking oil, then set aside.
2. Prepare 3 separate dished. 1st with 1 cup all-purpose flour. 2nd with 2 whisked eggs. In a 3rd dish mix 2/3 cup Italian bread crumbs, 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese, and 1 tbsp lemon zest.
3. Season chicken with salt, pepper, and all purpose seasoning. Season each of the separate dishes with the same seasonings.
4. Dredge each cutlet in flour, then beaten eggs, and then breadcrumb mixture.
5. Place on a pre-greased wire rack. Spray the tops of the cutlets with some cooking spray, that will help to keep the tops crispy and get golden in color.
6. Bake at 400°F for about 15-20 minutes or until the internal temperature reaches 165°F. Remove from oven, set aside.
7. On another sheet-pan, pour in your marinara sauce. Sprinkle shredded mozzarella cheese on top, and grated Parmesan cheese. Bake in the oven for 10 minutes until cheese is melted.
8. Using a grill spatula (with no slits/holes) scoop out sauce and cheese and pour it on top of your cutlet. Garnish with parsley, enjoy!

Keep Your Case Private & Off Social Media

Did You Know?

While many people use Facebook, X, Instagram, Youtube and LinkedIn for things like keeping up with the family and friends or leisurely entertainment, many are unaware that these social media forms have become ammunition for insurance companies, investigators and defense attorneys to poke holes in your case!

How To Protect Yourself:

Change your profile's security settings to "private" and do not post anything (words, pictures, videos) which could later be used against you to dispute the severity of your injuries or call into question your motives for pursuing a personal injury claim. Even after you change your security settings, be mindful of what you post to the internet for others to read and watch. As a good rule of thumb, do not post anything on the internet that you do not want to show up in court!

How We Use Experts In Our Cases At Carpey Law

The scale and complexity of litigating a personal injury case often lead to a different outcome than expected, creating a dispute between the parties. Many cases boil down to the question of whether the claimed injury was caused by the accident, or whether it was aggravated by the accident. In order to prove a convincing case, we at Carpey Law employ the best medical experts to meet our burden of proof during the discovery stage and at trial. This often leads to mediation and settlement before our cases even reach the trial stage. If you or a loved one have been injured in an accident, call us at Carpey Law and we will employ all of our resources to maximize your settlement or jury verdict.

Reminder About Our Firm's Communication Policy

About us: We perform very high quality legal work. We are highly competent and we have a highly competent support staff, but we are not perfect. We can make mistakes. We will correct a mistake if we find it or if you point it out.

It is our policy to return phone calls in the order they are received and based on the priority of the situation. If you leave a message, your call will be returned usually within 24 hours. Some clients feel that calling multiple times in a day will get their call answered faster, but that is not the case. Email is the quickest way to get a response from anyone in the office.

We work by appointment only. Without an appointment, it is unlikely Mr. Carpey would be able to meet with you.

Please utilize our support staff to answer your questions and to give you status reports. Our legal assistants and paralegals are very experienced and will often be able to respond to your requests.
